No. 1

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA
HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Historical Society finds itself in a position in which it will be impossible to issue its full four quarterly numbers for the year 1923. Miss Mabel L. Webber the capable Secretary of the Society who for many years has performed the work of preparing the material for, and supervising the printing and issue of, the Society's publications, met with a very severe accident while on an automobile trip in August, 1923.

Miss Webber's accident and its consequences were such as to incapacitate her from the performance of her task, for all the remainder of 1923. She still is suffering from those consequences but the confident belief of the Society's administration is that her recovery is but a question of time and that the Society will continue to enjoy her most valuable labour assistance and supervision. In the meanwhile it is contemplated that with the necessary assistance provided for her she will be in a position within a short time to have the Society's office in working order, and its publications resumed. As the issuance and correction of these publications require skill and experience of a high order, the accident to Miss Webber necessarily postponed for a time the current work of the Society. No one could be procured at such short notice to take her place for the period of her disability. The Society has determined therefore to issue but two numbers of its MAGAZINE for 1923. One to cover the six months ending 30 June and the other the six months ending 31 December.

For the year 1924 it is hoped we will be able to issue the full four numbers of the MAGAZINE.

LETTERS FROM HENRY LAURENS TO WILLIAM BELL
OF PHILADELPHIA

NOTES BY THE EDITOR

Henry Laurens had returned from England in the summer of 1784, but remained in Pennsylvania, chiefly in Philadelphia, until November 1784; on the 24th of that month he began the overland journey to Charleston, where, with his only remaining son, Henry Laurens, Jr., he arrived January 14, 1785.¹

William Bell, merchant, of Market St., Philadelphia, seems to have acted as friendly agent for Mr. Laurens, and the incomplete correspondence which we are now printing, forms part of the Laurens Collection of Manuscripts, the possession of this Society.

The letters are originals, and cover the years 1785, 1792, and some in 1794 from Henry Laurens, Jr., written after the death of his father.

Addressed:

Charleston 12th March 1785.

Dear Sir.

When Capt Alibone was almost on the point of Sailing I received from the Post Office many letters which he had brought for me from Philadelphia, these had been lying in the Office while I was in the Country endeavoring to bring my distressed affairs in to some sort of order and where our friend Mr. H. L.² now continues for the same purpose, we mean to relieve each other alternately.

Among those letters I found your obliging favor of the 11th ultmo replies are nearly anticipated by my last of the 7th that month per Capt. Baas; I then desired you to ship several articles on my account—to these give me leave to add the “exceeding good one Horse Chair" which I had mentioned and recalled, a neat good Harness and the Steps very low for the ease of my lame leg. we are here in a Sandy Country and I have always found Chairs set upon Shafts near or over the Axle much more safe and convenient than upon Springs or Braces—1 doz sorted Spiral Augers contrived I think by Mr. Henry of Lancaster from 2 Inches down to half Inch. four pair of best Brass Fire Dogs with suitable Shovels tongs and fenders if such are companions to the Dogs,—this request to be complied with provided it will be convenient to you to have a remittance for the Balance against me in a Bill upon London, which shall be immediately made, when you inform me the amount and your course of Exchange if you omit Commissions I shall add it.

I am obliged to conclude tho' I had more to say. With Compliments to Mrs. Bell and with great Regard & Respect

I remain Dear Sir,

Your obliged humble Servant,

Henry Laurens.

31st March 1785

Dear Sir.

On the 18th I was honour'd by the receipt of your obliging Letter of the 8th Inst by Capt. Strong who deliver'd the articles per Invoice & Bill of Loading in good order. the Beer pleases me, & the Hams appear to be very good but I shall try the quality tomorrow.

I thank you My dear friend for your affectionate and sympathetic expressions on my Case; Alas! we must cease from complaining and be thankful for what is left, in this view there is great ground for the exercise of my gratitude to that good Being in whom we live and move the World is what it has been from the beginning and what it will be to the end.

Besides the articles requested in my late letter 12th Inst. permit me to call for another provided the proposal for Payment by Bill upon London is acceptable.

I have been informed that a Mr. Mason in your city makes Fire Engins of as good quality in all respects as they are made in London and as cheap. that he sent here printed proportions, these I have diligently inquired for without success, therefore I must appeal to your judgment; if Mr. Mason's Engines are actually as good as the English and even within five or ten per ct as cheap I request you will purchase one of the second Rate or size with a Leathern Hose, a Shovel and another fixture to the Brass Pipe for scattering Water like a Gardner's Wattering Pot, it may be sometimes used in my Garden tho' it is intended chiefly to guard against accidents by Fire: I live a little remote from the bulk of the City, pay equal rates with those who dwell in the Center yet I must take care of my own property. I wish to be supplied with this useful article as speedily as possible, if you do not succeed in the purchase I will immediately order one from London. . . . Alas poor General Reed,³ his troubles are ended; he is only gone a little before us.

Your fellow Traveller still continues in the Country I shall relieve him in three or four days, in one of his latest Letters he concludes "My compliments to all friends particularly Mr. and Mrs. Bell when you write"—

I beg the Lady will permit me to add my own and that you will be assured I am with great regard, Dear Sir,

Your obliged humble serv't

Dear Sir.

Before I left Charleston the day before yesterday I had received the several articles which you had Ship'd on my Acco't by the London Packet Capt. Truxton and Charleston Packet Capt. Alibone, agreeable to the respective Invoices inclosed in your several favors of 26th March and 9th April, which are now before me to reply to, these several Amounts with the Fire Engine and Riding Chair in prospect will bring me considerably in your debt besides an addition which I shall certainly make for customary Commission to each Invoice and for the two Barrles of Porter which I hope you have not lost sight of; to cover all these I shall remit you a Bill on London at my return to Town about ten days hence for £258 Sterling which may leave a ballance in my favor to be applied on some future occasion.

The Axes you have sent are not the sort I wanted, these are the shape of the London Pikking Axes, the German Axe made at GermanTown are shorter broader and flat eyes. but these will be employed and therefore no inconvenience.

I obtained acceptance for the Bill £105 your Currency on Augus'n Buyck the day it came to hand, 13th Inst. it will become due the 26th wherefore you cannot hear its effect by this conveyance, as Capt. Alibone will sail that very day; I have left it in the hands of a person who transmits affairs in my absence with discretion to do the needful in case of nonpayment; from some hints I am at present of opinion it will not, in such case, be best to return it without your order, but press for the money; your further directions, admitting there should happen a delay of Payment, will be necessary and will oblige me.

The freight by Capt. Truxton is comparatively reasonable. When the Captain arrived I was confined at home by the Gout, he was so good, at my request, to call upon me, and altho' I had no inclination to ship Rice to London, I offered to assist with 100 or 150 Barrels, in the loading his Ship, but he replied, his whole Cargo was already laid in Store.

I meant a Chair without a Cover, but since you have ordered a top let it be so, it is often useful and the additional weight is not very considerable. The Fire Dogs Shovels and tongs are all satisfactory, the Fenders we may speak of when the Summer is wearing off. in the mean time I may receive the opinion of the Ladies,⁴ so long expected and not yet arrived. I wish to have all the articles with the Fire Engine mentioned the 31st Ult.—

⁴ Laurens two daughters, Martha and Eleanor, his grand-daughter Frances Eleanor, daughter of John Laurens, and Mary Laurens, widow of his brother James, arrived in Charleston from England 11 May, 1785. Life of Henry Laurens, Wallace p. 421.

I am now happy in my Son's company after a separation of six or seven Weeks, he is assisting me at this moment in writing, and we are using our joint endeavors to repair the damages committed by the common Enemy and some which are more afflicting by faithless White Servants who were taught to believe I would never return and therefore acted as if they were intitled to a share in the general plunder. the Blacks demonstrated their attachment by their fidelity, a very few instances excepted. We are also endeavoring to reward those and to make the whole happy. We unite in respectful Compliments and good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Bell, and I remain

3d. June 1785

Dear Sir.

When Capt. Strong last arrived in this Port I was in the Country where the necessities of my affairs obliged me to be near half of my time. your young friend happened to be present and received from the Captain a riding Chair and Harness, said to have been ship'd by you on my account, and the freight demanded was duly paid, but to this day neither Letter, Invoice nor Bill of Loading respecting the shipment have appeared; hence I remain ignorant of the Cost, but the Chair is in use and I am very well satisfied with it and should have been equally pleased if it had been Top'd.

The farmer's Waggon and Harnesses upon setting them to work proved defective in several articles, which when I see Mr. Laurens, provided I dont forget it, shall be particularly noted for your satisfaction, the person from whom it was purchased ought to make you compensation for the defects.

The 27th Ulto I was honored by receipt of your Letter of the 12th by Capt. Alibone who has delivered two Barrels of Philadelphia Porter, which proves very good, your health is often drank in it.

You certainly mistook the sort of Axes which I wanted but those you sent appear to be good of that fashion, and will be no incumbrance to me, two dozen of the short German Axes of the best make will however be useful and I request they may be sent at your leisure.

In my absence from Charleston Mr. Buyck paid your draught for £105 Philadelphia Currency, I believe without much trouble, and two days ago Mr. Thom's Johnson, Clerk to Messrs Gervais & Owen, in whose hands I had left the Bill brought me two hundred and Eighty Dollars a $7/6$ St [?] for the Amount, these stand to the credit of your account Curr't a $4/8$. £65.6.8 our Stirling. I will not put you to the expence of freight & Insurance or risque but pay you on the spot at home.

I thank you my Dear Friend for all your good wishes respecting myself and my Estate, for the latter I can only repeat I am content; my Lands will maintain me & I am free from debt. Yet I met with a circumstance yesterday which would hurt the tranquillity of many a Man. Mr. Owen adjusted an Account for me with the Treasury, the Amount of which on any part was equal to four thousand two or three solid Guineas, for which I am allowed as much paper as would yield me about two hundred and fifty. the Treasurers determined according to a general Rule and would make no exceptions in favor of Mr. Laurens—how severely must similar adjustments be felt by Men who are in debt, by Widows and Orphans. the Rule appears to me, unjust and iniquitous but I must not add the loss of happiness to that of Money. nay! Comparatively you will admit I ought to be Content.

As to my health 'tis precarious, I am very infirm, but this poor body has been greatly exercised and 'tis not very young, in this I am also Content. the man is a fool, for the time being, who makes himself miserable for any thing that befalls him in this waning life.

The Ladies you so kindly inquire after arrived two days before the date of Your Letter after a pleasant passage of Six Weeks from the Downs, they fled immediately into the Country where they now are with their Brother and will continue all this Month and where I shall visit them next Tuesday. I am sure you have the good wishes of them all for your goodness to me. Present my compliments to Mrs. Bell and be assured I am with affectionate Regard, Dear Sir,

My good friend.

On the 3d Ulto. by Capt. Alibone I had the honor of addressing you and at the same time remitted a set of Bills my own draught on Messrs Bourdieu Chollet and Bourdieu payable at 60 days sight to your order 250 Sterling, since which your obliging Letters of 20 April and 4th June by Capt. Strong have come to hand, where the former has been so long lying dormant is uncertain. I have also received the Fire Engine but have not had time to try its powers.

Shall I request you to pay to Mr. Heltzhimer on my acct. seven pounds 6/11 your Currency and to take his receipt in full, this Sum is the result of a bargain for Horseflesh in which my friend and I differed a little in opinion, I submitted the decision wholly to himself and he has awarded so much against me.

I begin to fear falling in arrears to you, the moment your acco't Current discovers it, the Ballance shall be paid. you might very justly retort—"You ought to know the state of the Account as well as myself." this would be true, but I have told you my circumstances which do not yet allow me to keep up Books in that accurate order which I had been formerly accustomed to, your kind consideration I am persuaded will excuse me. The Spaniards I apprehend will never open their Ports in the West Indies to the United States except it may be in a Limited degree by contract in which the Contractors on each side will enjoy certain feelings, in such an event Philadelphia or New York or both will be the fortunate Port or Ports which certainly would not be injurious to this or any other State in the Union, however desirable such contract might be to such. I know will purge itself but we shall receive and have already received many a woful pang in the operation. you know my sentiments fully on these subjects. all the West India Ports would not have been shut against us had we acted with sagacity in the beginning.

Mr. Laurens and the rest of my family are in the Country, I am at present alone, the whole will be here in three or four days for the Summer. in other Countries people go into the Country in the Summer, in this, we come to Town. but I must make another visit in a few days and stay about a fortnight. the Crops of every kind in low Lands have suffered by Rains and swelling of Rivers, but in general they stand very well at present, those of Rice and Indian Corn will in all appearance be plentiful.

With my best Respects to Mrs. Bell and repeated assurances of Esteem and Regards, I remain, Dear Sir.

I thank you My Dear Sir, for your kind congratulations and good wishes, the Ladies and your old fellow traveller will be in Town tomorrow for the remaining part of the Summer, the situation of our house 66 feet by 36 and open on all fronts promises to be as comfortable as you can be in Market Street.

The end of all "disagreeable disappointments" can only be, My dear friend, at the end of Life, pray rather that we may have reason and fortitude to encounter and bear with becoming submission every accident and disappointment that shall in the mean time befall us.

Dear Sir,

My Father being unwell from the relics of a Fever and Cold and a little Stroke of the Gout, desires me, while I acknowledge the Receipt of Your favor to me of the 27th Ulto, by Capt. Strong, to thank you for one of the Same Date to himself accompanied by an Account of Sundry Smith's and other Tools shipt on board the Philadelphia, amount to your Credit £27.17.3.

The Articles came out right except, one eleven Inch half round rough File deficient. He requests you will send by one of the first Vessels proper Tools for boring Pumps, I suppose there must be bits of different Sizes but your Block Maker will give you the best Information, these Tools are wanted for the use of our Plantation where there are no Pump Makers, Also, two of the very best Philadelphia made Carpenter's broad Axes. We suspend saying any thing more respecting Horses, being informed by a Friend of his expectation of a string of five and forty from Chicasaw Indian Nation, which are generally esteemed as good Horses as any in America.

I am glad to hear of your perfect recovery from the Sickness which had interrupted you and wish you a very long continuance of health.

Our Summer has been pretty moderate. My Father kept me in Charleston whilst he exposed himself as I thought a little too much in the Country, yet I have not escaped two or three strokes of the Fever, but an Emetic and close application to Bark sett me up again and I am now very well, so well that I begin to think Matrimony an Event which may onetime or other happen, whenever it does, as you honor me by interesting yourself in that point, I shall with pleasure communicate early Notice. But my good friend I wish to get a house a little before I take a Wife, I have some prospect of having the house before many Months are over.

We are now arrived at our Harvest time, the Weather is pretty fine, if it continues so a fortnight longer I hope We shall make upwards of five hundred Barrels of Rice, great quantity of Indian Corn and Peas, and from three to five thousand of good Indigo, but a Gale of Wind which We call a Hurricane or very heavy falls of Rain which too frequently happen at this critical Season would overset one half, Let us wish therefore for fair Weather.

My dear friend,

I have been of late a good deal plagued with the Gout too much in the upper Works, my present indisposition is such as obliges me to borrow a hand for acknowledging and thanking you for your very kind Letter of the 18th Ulto. I can't stoop to a writing table without great pain and uneasiness.

The non arrival of the Pump Borer is no great disappointment, it will come time enough a Month hence.

Four Barrels of Apples at one time is too much for a family however the Ladies to whom you sent so many desire me to return their Compliments and thanks, and to say that you have enabled them to treat a great many of their Friends. you say nothing about the freight, but I shall send and offer to pay it to Capt. Strong to morrow morning. I will request you to send on my proper Account two Barrels of the best Mew-Town Pippins, and a half Barrel of the very finest Flour by the next opportunity. I feel more than half sorry that my friend Dr. Franklin has accepted of the Presidency of your State as it may be the last Act of his Life. But Alas! what is human Life? Vanity and Vexation of Spirit.

Inclosed I trouble you with two Letters, the one to Mr. James Futterel I beg you will forward by the first opportunity to any part of England. the other to W. Fisher Esq. be pleased to send to him. this gentleman lately arrived from England with his Son in Law Dr. Rusto and Family, and I believe may be heard of at Mr. Robert Morris's.

Do you think I could charter a double decked Vessel at or under £3 Sterling per Ton in your City to load here with a Cargo of 4 or 500 Barrels Rice and to proceed to London, Bordeaux, Nantes or Harvre de Grace as I might determine, upon her arrival. If you think it practicable I shall enlarge upon the Subject when I hear from you. My Crop will be about 500 Barrels and ready for Shipping some time in February. I should desire the Vessel to load at my Landing about forty Miles up Cooper River, a very safe Navigation and would save her a good deal of Town Expencc.

Dear Sir.

The day before yesterday I received by express from Charleston your very friendly and obliging Letters of 22d and 25 Ulto. with Bills of Loading and an Acct. for Apples, Pump Borers and Axes the whole amounting to £23 19.10. to the Cr. of your Acct.—also Wm Pearce & Co's Protested Bill for £180 Sterling.

⁶ The Laurens arms as used on the book plate of Edward Rutedge Laurens are: Sa: three doves ar. rising Crest: on a wreath argent and gules, two arms ppr enbowed holding a chaplet. Motto: What is is best.

The articles Miss Laurens informs me were landed except the flour and that would be the next day, no doubt the file will be found in the Case with the borers, your kindly adding 2 Barrells of Apples enables us to give away two—four are too many at a time for any family in this Climate. I thank you for forwarding my Letters to London and to Mr. Fisher.

I hope the Protested Bill is not on your own Account I shall use my utmost diligence to recover the Amount but if the endorser is not General Nathaniel Greene we shall find it extremely difficult to extract Sterling Money from Georgia; from the General there is some expectance.

The depredations committed by time and by both parties in the late War on all the buildings upon my settlements at this place, demanded several new Houses and immediate very great repairs to the rest, hence we are very backward in cleaning out a Crop of about 500 Barr'ls Rice which I shall want a Ship to take away but shall not be ready for her till late in February, I must therefore thank you for the trouble you have been at in your late enquiries and postpone the business to a future day, perhaps the beginning of January, when I shall see my way more clearly and probably may then be competent to name several Ports at the Charterers option.

Your friend's information respecting your fellow Traveller was rather premature, he has not been fitting up any House—I have lately presented him with a valuable Plantation and necessary Laboures on Santee River 42 Miles higher than this, which will for sometime engage his attention, particularly to repair or rebuild the dwelling House and several out houses which have suffered as those above mentioned, if in the mean time he will provide the best furniture for the House, he will act consistently with my advice and my earnest wishes, our friend is present, expresses his obligation for the Interest you take in this important business and desires to join with me in affectionate and respectful Compliments to Mr. and Mrs. Bell Accept my special acknowledgements for your friendly solicitude for my health, thank God I am at present well except for that degree of debility to which the Gout has subjected and which I must submit to, through Life, yet if you were to see me trudging every day up and down these Hills, you would question the fact, but so it is, and I return in the Evening weary as a Dog from a day's hunt.

I shall desire a friend in Charleston to put on board one of the Philadelphia Ships two Barrels of our Carolina Potatoes which I beg Mrs. Bell will do me the honor to accept, and if I could send it in time I would add a small Barrel of as nice Rice as ever was seen but this goes by a special messenger, to catch one of these Vessels who are never long in Port, the Rice will be reserved for a future opportunity.

I was on the point of concluding when our young friend reminded me, "we want three ploughs for Indian Corn Land complete with two Shares and Coulters to each frame to be the very best in all respects and large Shares,"

"three Horse hoe plough Irons of one size the largest used, without frames,"

I request these My Dear friend to be Shiped by the earliest opportunity and further oblige.

By D. E. HUGER SMITH

In British Family Antiquity by William Playfair, Volume VIII, published in 1811, we find an account of this ancient family of Nisbett of that Ilk and of its cadet branch known as the Nisbetts of Dean.

The family was of very high antiquity, taking its name from the lands of Nisbett in the shire of Berwick.

This, Mr. Playfair tells us, was "an ancient denomination; for, "in the donation of King Edgar, the son of Malcolm Canmore (in "whose reign surnames first became hereditary) to the monks of "Dunfermline, to pray for the Soul of his father, among other "lands he gives those of Nisbett, where the Castle of Nisbett "stood, memorable in Scottish history for the fatal overthrow "given by the English by the assistance of the then rebel Earl of "March to the flower of the youth of the Lothian.

"Sir Alexander Nisbett of that Ilk afterwards demolished the "castle of Nisbett and built his mansion in its place."

The names of many of the family appear successively in the records, until Alexander Nisbett, who made an interesting marriage with Helen Rutherford, and received from James IV a charter of the land of Brighamshields to himself and his spouse in the year 1506.

Then after 1603 we find of the family two representatives. (A) The elder bore the constantly recurring name of Alexander, and (B) the younger, Patrick Nisbett of Dean, was created a Baronet on 2nd December 1612.

During the Great Rebellion the men of the elder line sided with King Charles and died, one on the Scaffold, some in exile, and some in battle. The last male of this line was Mr. Alexander Nisbett, a learned Antiquary and Herald, who wrote "The System of Heraldry." He died without issue, and after his death Sir John Nisbett of Dean "was allowed by authority to carry the supporters of the principal arms of Nisbett of that Ilk," thus marking him as the chief of his name.

The last Sir John, of the elder line of Sir Patrick's descendants, died at some time previous to 13 Oct. 1749, which is the date of a "last Bond and provision" executed by his successor, Sir Alexander Nisbett, a few days before he left North Britain to return to Carolina, where he had acquired and given name to the well known estate or plantation on Cooper River, still called Dean Hall.

Before beginning the account of the three generations of these Nisbetts of Dean Hall in Carolina, it may be well to give an abstract of this codicil to the above mentioned last Bond and provision, recorded in the Probate Court in Charleston, Vol. 1752-56, page 121.

Mr. George Seaman, Merchant and Mr. Robert Hume, planter in South Carolina

dated 16 August 1753—proved 1753

Mr. George Seaman, here named as executor, was a Scotch merchant and planter of large means, who apparently came from Leith. He married 2 May, 1750 the widow of William Allen of Thorogood and thus became the stepfather of Elizabeth Allen, who married 3 May, 1759 John Deas.

The latter was born 29 Jan. 1735, probably in Leith, and came to Carolina in 1749. His interesting connection with this narrative will be shown later.

ALEXANDER NISBETT OF DEAN HALL IN SOUTH CAROLINA AND OF DEAN SCOTLAND BARONET

Alexander Nisbett came to Carolina at some date before 1725, for in that year he bought certain contiguous tracts of land to which plantation he gave the name of Dean Hall, evidently taken from the estate of Dean in Scotland. What his business was has not been shown, but he held, as shown by the record, quite a number of mortgages, making it evident that he controlled or had the use of a good deal of money.

He married Mary Rutherford, daughter of Sir John Rutherford, and sister of Mr. Robert Rutherford later of Fairnington and of Mr. Walter Rutherford of New York. Mr. Robert Rutherford died 1794 and Mr. Walter Rutherford in 1804.

Of Sir Alexander's eldest son Henry nothing is known, but as the baronetcy seems to have been held in 1764 by his second son John, it must be presumed that Henry either predeceased his father or died without male issue.

Of the youngest son Alexander nothing appears on the records in Carolina.

From a mortgage recorded in Charles Town in the Mesne Conveyance Office, dated 15 Dec. 1744 (See Book BB, p. 44), it is recited that the land had been conveyed to Anthony White, Jr. by Alexander Nisbett, late of Charles Town, through his Attorneys James Michie and James Akin. It may be inferred that he had not then succeeded to the Baronetcy and that he was then probably in Britain.

It may be interesting to remember that this James Michie was Speaker of the Commons House in 1753-4, Member of the King's Council in 1756, and Chief Justice in 1759. (See McCrady's South Carolina under the Royal Government).

At what date Sir Alexander returned to South Carolina is not known.

In the South Carolina Gazette of 8th October, 1753, we find a very short notice of his death as follows: "Yesterday died Sir Alexander Nisbett;" and in the Register of St. Philip's Parish we find "1753—Oct. 8—Then was buried Sir Alexander Nisbett."

Lady Nisbett must have been in Charles Town at this time, for on 8 May, 1754 Mrs. Manigault entered in her diary a visit from her. (See So. Ca. Hist. Mag. Vol. 20—p. 58.)

It was thought by Playfair in his account of the Nisbetts of Dean that Sir John Nisbett, who in 1764 was a cornet in the 2nd or Royal North British Dragoons, was the eldest son of Sir Alexander. In point of fact he seems to have been the second son.

Of this Sir John we catch frequent glimpses in the correspondence of his uncles Robert and Walter Rutherford; the first writing from Britain, the latter from New York at various dates between 1778 and 1799. These items we owe to the kindness of Mr. Livingston Rutherford, a great great grandson of Walter.

(Authority for items from this source will be given as Rutherford Letters.)

When Sir John retired from the British Army we do not know, but it seems probable that it was at some time before 1769.

His wife was a French woman named Claudine Favre, by whom he had two sons—his successor John, and Alexander, the latter of whom was born in 1772, as we learn from his tombstone in the Strawberry Churchyard on Cooper River. John appears to have been born in 1768 or 1769, as his uncle Robert writes of him in February 1790 that he was now of age.

In 1777, or perhaps early in 1778, we find Sir John and his family in America with his uncle Walter Rutherford. Endeavoring to make his way from the north to Carolina he was "lost in going there with his family except his two sons whom he left with" Mr. Walter Rutherford.

This may suggest the object of a visit made by Mr. John Rutherford, a son of Walter, to Carolina about the middle of 1778. We find this visit mentioned in a letter from John Deas to the same John Rutherford, (born 20 Sept. 1760 died 23 Feb. 1840). Mr. Livingston Rutherford's full extracts from this letter we give here for their great local interest.

Charles Town,
15 Sept. 1779.

Dear Sir,

Your very obliging favour of 30th Sept, with copy of that of 11th July (the original of which never has come to hand) I duly received & should have made a more punctual Reply, had not a Variety of Avocation public & private prevented, as no doubt you have heard of our late Invasion you can from thence judge the Confusion we were in whilst it lasted. My family fled to the x x x x x, whilst I march to Town & mounted the Lines where I lived on rations and slept on the land till I was tired x x x x x

Amongst those of our Friends that have fallen in this Campaign you will lament honest Ben Huger and the more so when I acquaint you it was by the Fire of our own People from the Lines on the night of the supposed Attack. Good God! what a Scene that was! I have often spoke of the Grand Fire Works I saw at Versailles on the marriage of the present King, but this excelled it all, the other was a Feu de Joye this was a Feu d' Enfer, I believe I must call it, for none but his Infernal Majesty could be at the bottom of this cursed Quarrel.

No doubt you have heard of the Retreat of the Enemy soon thereafter & we have lately had the very agreeable Intelligence that Count d'Estaing with a formidable Fleet & a number of troops are arrived on our Coast, from whence we expect the recovery of Georgia & perhaps the conquest of St. Augustine, at any rate we flatter ourselves with the Prospect of having a quiet Winter in this Quarter, & some faint hopes that a Peace in the Spring may be the result of all this Hurly-Burly.

I should have told you that the enemy made very free with my House & Stock &c at Combahee, my People luckily took to their heels, except three who thought proper to join the Enemy, & a scouting party made an Incursion into Goose Creek & plundered several houses, particularly Mr. Middleton's and Thorogood, where they took everything they fancied & carried away all my Horses & 3 negro Boys—so you see I have had my share of Losses as well as Fatigue x x x x x

I thank you for the care you took of my Letters I have since heard had got safe to hand with our young Friends your Cousins, by which your Aunt Lady Nisbett is greatly cheered up, she wrote me a long letter upon it & I can see she is in pretty good spirits. I am happy to find they expect to prove Sir John's marriage & of course establish the legitimacy of the poor innocent children x x x x x

I should have mentioned my niece being married to Mr. Middleton of Crowfield. I don't recollect if he was of your acquaintance when here, tho I believe he was at our Clubb at Goose Creek the day you were there—we were all hands celebrating their nuptials at Thorogood (if dancing can be called so) when the news of Georgia being invaded came to hand and spoiled our sport.

I am sorry to add that it has been our misfortune to lose Mr. Middleton last month occasioned I believe by the Fatigues of our Summer's Employ in Town & an unlucky Jaunt he took into Georgia in quest of some of his People that had been taken away by the Enemy x x x x x

This melancholy Event has occasioned much distress in my Family & being left one of his Executors takes up much of my time x x x x x my niece Middleton is come Home again to our House for a few weeks.

Charles is much obliged to you for your kind remembrance of him, he is this moment at my knee beating an old Canister by way of a Drum as you know we are now-a-days Soldiers ab ovo x x x x x

Dear Sir yr Affect. Friend
& very Hble Servt
John Deas

From the Rutherford Letters we learn that the two orphan Nisbetts reached their Grandmother, Dame Mary Nisbett, at some time between July 1778 and April 1779. They are described in 1780 by their grand-uncle Robert Rutherford as "fine promising boys;" steps had previously been taken to find proofs of the marriage of Sir John, for which purpose an agent had been sent to France. And the writer continues: "Our poor Sister is so Fond of the Boys and so anxious and Tender a Temper that I fear she will easily break her Heart if Things do not go well for Them."

During the period from 1779 to 1797 it is chiefly the Rutherford Letters which enable us to follow the fate of the two Nisbett boys, who appear to have owed to the extraordinary kindness and care of their two granduncles their escape from the Sea of troubles that threatened to overwhelm them.

In South Carolina, we find two important mentions of them. First, the Legislature was called by Governor John Rutledge to meet at Jacksonborough, at a distance of only about 35 miles from Charles Town then held by the British. Convening in January 1782, it passed the Confiscation Act in retaliation for the actions of the British Authorities. In this act, list No. 1 contained the names of those known to be subjects of his Britannic Majesty, and in this list was included the "Devises or heirs of Sir John Nisbett." But in March 1783 the "Heirs of Sir John Nisbett" were taken off the Confiscation List. It is to be presumed that the Dean Hall plantation and other property were then restored by the Commissioners to the agent of the Nisbetts, and this agent was apparently John Deas before mentioned.

As the war had been waged by both combatants with great severity and damage to property it does not seem strange that in August 1784 Mr. Robert Rutherford should have written that in these seven or eight years past only one remittance of £150 had come from the Nisbett property.

Although out of the course of the narrative, it may be well to state here that the young Sir John Nisbett sailed from Greenock for New York about the beginning of May 1787.

It will also be well now to outline as far as possible their history in Europe up to that date.

From a letter dated 31 March 1780 it is learned that the agent at Dean had not been able from ill health to sign receipts for the rents due by the tenants, and Lady Nisbett feared to try to get another appointed before she was in possession of evidence of the marriage of the late Sir John; but during the summer of 1781, the son, Sir John, was served Heir of his father without opposition, and Mr. Robert Rutherford was appointed his Tutor or Guardian by the Court. In 1783 it was thought by their guardian that the boys were getting the better of their grandmother and Sir John was sent to St. Andrews, and Alexander to an Academy at Perth. Sir John is described as exceedingly handsome in his person with Spirits and Talent, but with a "Haughty Stubbornness of Temper."

He seems inclined to enter the Army, but his Tutor fears that may be of prejudice to him with the Government at Carolina, to which place it might be preferable that he should go as soon as he could be trusted.

But by August 1784 Sir John carried out his wish to enter the army, and an Ensigny was purchased for him in the 59th Regiment then stationed at Gibraltar. He there reported for duty where he remained for about eighteen months. Being expensively inclined he spent more than his small fortune would allow of, which was only £100 a year besides his pay, as no money was coming from Carolina. "He is a perfect Adonis, particularly beautiful," added his uncle.

Efforts to place Alexander in a mercantile house in Glasgow, or London, or Bristol, or Holland failed because apparently too high an Apprentice Fee was demanded.

We are thus brought to the date at which Sir John sailed for New York as stated above, viz: May 1787.

Under date of 28 Feb. 1790 Mr. Robert Rutherford wrote to his brother Walter as follows:

"I am not fond of thinking much or saying anything about the "Nisbetts But still We must and ought to think of them and "endeavor to do them any good that may be in our power and "they may be pleased to permit. Sir John is now of age and "Lady N. had a short letter from him lately after a long Time "that neither he nor Alex. had wrote a word to her. It is dated "from Charlestown He tells her he was returned from North "Carolina and that when he could settle his affairs and fall upon "some means to get remittances regularly he would come to this "Country. That Alex was to get 1/2 the negroes and settle "with them on some better and more healthy Place. But he does "not say whether that is to be on his Lands or not. There are no "letters from Alex or Mr. Deas.

"Both are much to be pitied for being so weak thoughtless and "silly, incapable of any exertion from listlessness and indolence, "as if it was only the business of other People to take Care of "them and feed them like children.

Of Alexander the letter says further:

"He has nothing in the World but his Share in the negroes "and Stocks on the Plantation in Carolina and what his Brother "Sir John pleases to allow him in the meantime. This can be "but little, since the whole Dean Estate with the House after "deducting the Burthens upon it does not amount to more than "£160 a year and no money comes from Mr. Deas. Sir John has "hitherto been so good as to allow him £40 or £50 a year."

Sir John's presence in Charleston and also the fact that he was then of age is shown by a conveyance recorded in the Mesne Conveyance Office there, Book D 6, page 471, dated July 1790. In this "Sir John Nisbett Bart. late of the Kingdom of Great Britain but now of South Carolina" conveyed to Jacob Sass a lot of land on Queen St., which his grandfather, Sir Alexander, had acquired in May 1753.

It is interesting to note that the witnesses to Sir John's deed were Isaac Huger, Jr. and Wm. Allen Deas, a son of John Deas.

But now the storm, which for a dozen years had been threatening the young Nisbetts, was to break upon them, and both of their long-suffering granduncles were again called upon to show their enduring kindness. For in Mar. 1790 they learn that John Rutherford of Hunthill, a nephew of theirs, was expected to commence proceedings for the purpose of disputing their legitimacy, and it was believed that Mrs. Nisbett of Dirleton was supplying the money to conduct the suit. The Dirleton family were very rich and had as yet no heirs male, and failing such, Sir John would under the Entail succeed to them.

These troubles, or perhaps the lack of money, may account for the visits of Sir John to Mr. Walter Rutherford in August 1790 and November 1791. The legal procedure must have been very slow, for in Jany. 1793 the "pursuers" produced witnesses to prove that the late Sir John had not acknowledged his marriage while in Scotland, whereupon application was made to the Court for a Commission to examine Mr. Walter Rutherford and Mrs. Rutherford in America.

The proverbial "law's delay" seems to have held good in this suit, for only on 15th Oct. 1797 does a letter from Walter Rutherford tell us:

"I have a letter from Nelly Rutherford x x x x have lost my "very dear sister Nisbett x x x x had been ailing sometime, and "a paralytic stroke occasioned her death twelve hours after the "important Cause of the legitimacy of the Nisbetts was decided "in their Favour unanimously by the Lords of Session. My "evidence was the only Proof."

In Feb. 1796 at the meeting of the South Carolina Jockey Club (see page 18 of History of the Turf in South Carolina) there was a match race between Sir John Nisbett of Dean Hall and John Randolph of Roanoke, each gentleman riding his own horse. Mr. Randolph won the race after an exciting struggle. But the historian tells us that tradition said that Sir John, "who was a very elegant gentleman," "won the prize from beauty's eyes," for that many of the fair watchers of the race declared that, though

Mr. Randolph had won the race, they much preferred Sir John in a match.

In October 1797 we read in the Gazette of the marriage of Sir John to Maria, daughter of Col. William Alston of Waccamaw and Charleston by his first marriage to Mary Ashe.

Col. Alston was a noted patron of the turf in South Carolina, and bred on his Waccamaw plantation many fine Thorough-bred horses. President Washington visited him at this plantation, when he came to Carolina in 1791.

His first wife, married 13 Feb. 1777, the mother of Lady Nisbett, was the daughter of John Baptista Ashe, Brig.-Gen. North Carolina State Troops, by his wife Rebecca Moore, who was a daughter of Col. Maurice Moore and grand-daughter of James Moore, governor of Carolina 1700-1702. These two families of Ashe and Moore were very prominent during the entire Colonial period both in North Carolina and South Carolina.

Occasional glimpses of Sir John and Dame Maria Nisbett are caught in the "Rutherford Letters."

In April 1798, we find them planning a visit to Scotland, and they are advised to go North by the Orkneys to Leith, or else by a Glasgow ship, so as to avoid the enemy in the Channel.

And again we learn that the Laird (Mr. Walter Rutherford's nephew) in May 1799 is "much displeased with Sir John Nisbett who dashes away at London, Bath, &c. and comes not near his Estates, wishes him with his wife, or She with him as young folks should be."

Apparently Lady Nisbett was then in Carolina, for in June 1799 Mr. Horry, who arrived lately thence in New York, brought the news that Lady Nisbett had a fine boy and was impatient for her knight's arrival. Nevertheless Sir John was still in Britain, and had sent for Alic on Dirleton's account, who wished their assistance in breaking his entail, for he had only a daughter, and the Dean family was next Heirs of Entail to this estate which was called £6000 a year.

Mr. William Hamilton Nisbett's [of Dirleton] daughter was married to the Earl of Elgin, who was but lately returned from his Embassy at Vienna.

The exact relationship of the then Sir John Nisbett to Mr. Nisbett of Dirleton does not appear though doubtless a very little research in North Britain would show it.

It may be well to quote here what Playfair tells us about the two cadet branches of the Dean family. The grandfather of Sir Alexander of Dean and of Dean Hall in South Carolina was Henry Nisbett who left three sons (1) James, the father of Sir Alexander, (2) ——— Nisbett whose descendants were called "of Craigtintinie," (3) ——— Nisbett, whose descendants were called "of Dirleton." The two last named families bore the arms of Dean with differences to show cadency.

A plantation in Georgetown County on Peedee River is still called "Dirleton," but it is not known by whom or when it was settled.

Of the lives of Sir John and Dame Maria Nisbett between 1799 and May 1821 little is known. He continued through that time to own Dean Hall, but most probably lived in Britain until the last date when he sold Dean Hall plantation to Mr. William A. Carson.

But his brother Alexander appears to have remained in Carolina, and at his death on 27 January 1813 in his 42nd year resided on the Dean Hall plantation, as shown by the inscription on his tombstone at Strawberry Chapel on the Cooper River.

In his will, dated 3 March 1812, he described himself as "of Dean Hall, in St. John's Parish, South Carolina" and left his whole estate real and personal to his wife Abigail, who also was named sole Executrix. What Mrs. Nisbett's maiden name was does not appear, but in her will, proved in 1819, she mentions a niece Laura Kelly, and a half-sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly, while her daughter, Caroline M. Nisbett is named as residuary legatee and Sole executrix. The executrix qualified as Caroline M. Philippe, late Nisbett.

From deeds on record Jean B. Philippe and wife Caroline Matilda Philippe, before marriage called Caroline M. Nisbett, conveyed in 1820 to Francis Laborde a large lot on Meeting and Columbus Streets, known as the Botanic Garden, which, apparently after some litigation, had passed to her under the will of her mother, Mrs. Abigail Nisbett.

The Dean Hall plantation remained in the possession of Sir John Nisbett until 1 May 1821.

On that date Sir John Nisbett of Dean in Scotland with Dame Maria Nisbett his wife by his Attorney William Meen (sic) conveyed for a consideration of $40,000 to William A. Carson the Dean Hall plantation of 3100 acres.

Dame Maria Nisbett seems to have been then in South Carolina, for she renounced dower &c before Elihu Hall Bay, one of the judges of said State.

The receipt for the money secured by the mortgage then given by Carson was signed on 10 April 1829 by James L. Petigru, by virtue of a power of attorney from John Rutherford, and Charles, Lord Sinclair, trustees and executors of Sir John Nisbett, deceased, given to Robert Scott and John Balfour of Savannah, who had appointed J. L. Petigru as their substitute.

This power of attorney is recorded in the Secretary of State's office in Columbia in book H 5, and recites that Sir John's will was proved in the Court of the Archbishop of Canterbury on 28 June 1828, thus giving an approximate date for his death.

Lord Sinclair was a relative of Sir John through the Rutherfords, for we learn from Burke's Peerage that the 11th Lord Sinclair married in 1763 Elizabeth, daughter of John Rutherford Esq. of Edgerston, Roxburgh, and grand-daughter of Sir John Rutherford, and apparently a niece of Robert and Walter Rutherford, from whose letters so much valuable information has come to us.

The last mention of Maria, Lady Nisbett, is in her father's will—Col. William Alston died 26 June 1839 in his 83rd year. (See S. C. Hist. Mag. Vol. XII—p. 40) and in his will dated 29 Nov. 1838 mentions his daughter Lady Maria Nisbett, widow of Sir John Nisbett now wife of Dr. John Murray.

This appears to close the connection of the Nisbetts of Dean with South Carolina.

The extraordinary and persistent kindness and solicitude shown by the two Rutherford brothers to their nephew Sir John Nisbett and to his sons, Sir John and Alexander Nisbett, must necessarily attract interest to themselves. Luckily we are enabled to supply from "Family Records and Events" by Mr. Livingston Rutherford some information about their careers.

The elder, Robert Rutherford, the 4th son of Sir John Rutherford, was born on the 30th of May, 1719, and at an early age received in London his business education. Thence he went to Leghorn, Italy, where in course of time he became a partner in the banking-house of Jackson and Rutherford. Appointed in 1768 by Catherine II of Russia her financial agent in the Mediteranean, he later declined promotion in the Treasury at St. Petersburg, and was by her raised to the dignity of a Russian Baron for himself and his descendants.

Returning to Great Britain in 1777, he settled on the Estate of Fairnington in Roxburghshire. He died unmarried and without issue in 1794.

Walter Rutherford was the sixth son of Sir John, and entered the British Army at the age of fifteen. He was ordered to America in 1756, and we find him a Captain in the 60th, or Royal Americans, in which regiment his eldest brother, John Rutherford, held the rank of Major. The latter was killed in the disastrous battle of Ticonderoga on 6th July, 1758. Walter married in 1758 Catherine Alexander, widow of Elisha Parker, by whom he became the progenitor of the well-known Rutherford family of New York. Her brother, William Alexander, was a distinguished officer in the Continental Line of the Revolution, in the history of which we often find him mentioned as Major-General Lord Sterling.

Walter Rutherford had reached the rank of Major before he retired from the British Army. A reproduction of his portrait in uniform may be found in Vol. II of the Annals of the King's Royal Rifle Corps, by Lieut. Col. Lewis Butler, page 336, which, however, is erroneously designated as the portrait of his brother, Major John Rutherford. He died the 10th of January, 1804.

PETITION OF CITIZENS OF ORANGEBURGH TOWNSHIP
IN BEHALF OF REV. JOHN GIESSENDANNER, 1749

In 1749 Rev. John Giessendanner, who had been a Dissenter minister in Orangeburgh Township theretofore, went to England in order to be ordained to the Episcopal ministry. In order to strengthen his case a petition in his behalf was presented to His Majesty's Council of South Carolina by citizens of Orangeburgh Township. A copy of this petition was made by William Backshell, acting Secretary of the province, for Mr. Giessendanner to take with him. It bears evidence that Backshell was the poor copyist that Gov. Glen characterized him as on several occasions. This copy is now in Fulham Palace, London, and the following transcript thereof was procured therefrom by Mr. E. Alfred Jones, of London, for A. S. Salley, Jr.

To his Excellency James Glen Esq^r. Captain General Governor and Commander in Chief in and over his Majestys Province of South Carolina and to the Members of His Majestys Honourable Council.

The Petition of the Inhabitants of Orang'burgh Humbly Sheweth
That your Petitioners have been now upwards of Eleven Years Inhabitants of this Province¹ and increased to about ninety Famelys besides an agreeable Prospect of growing youth and under the expectation of Enjoying the same Priviledges and Imunitys in Society which their Fellow Subjects do Enjoy have at all time Willingly and Chearfully contributed their assistance toward the Support and preservation of the Government—

That they hetherto have had the misfortune of being deprived of having a Parson Qualifyed by his Lordship the Bishop in order to be duly authorized to promote true Religion and Virtue among them—and to instruct their Younger ones in the Principles of their Christian Religion—

That John Giessendanner hath these Nine Years Employ'd his time and Study to Officiate in the ministerial office and to Preach the Gospel to their great Satisfaction—

¹ This petition was evidently prepared several years before 1749, as many of the signers had been in the province over thirteen years and several even longer. (See Salley's History of Orangeburg County, Orangeburg, S. C., 1898.)

That the same is a man of Piety and Knowledge in the holy Scriptures and always behaved himself with Sobriety Honesty and Decency, Encouraging Virtue and reprovig Vice—

That Your Petitioners knowing his Merit and Commendable Character have unanimously consented to gather to give him a Vocation to the Ministerial Function among them—

That one Mr. Barth°. Zuberbuller having some years agone obtained a Vocation to this Township and met with favourable Assistance from the Goverment hath since his arrival from England in Carolina not shewn his Person here but Engaged himself to the Service of the Coloney of Georgia very much to Your Petitioners disappointment—

That the said John Gessendanner being now resolved by the leave of Providence with the approbation of Your Excellency and Honours and the Assistance of His Friends to Embark for London in Order to be duly quallified for that Purpose—

Your Pet^s. therefore humbly Pray Your Excellency and Honours to take their above Grievance into your serious Consideration and to be pleased to grant the said John Gessendanner such recomendation and Ratification of this our Vocation as Your Excellency and Honours will think requisite and Necessary for his better Succeeding in the Same

And Your Petitioners as in Duty bound shall ever Pray &c^a. &c^a.

LETTERS FROM HENRY LAURENS TO WILLIAM BELL

Copied by MABEL L. WEBBER

Charleston So Carolina
9th Febr'y 1792.

Dear Sir

My last trouble to you is dated the 12th Janry & went by the Fame Capt. Vickery for Baltimore, it contained a Memorial to the House of Representatives on the report of the Secretary of War respecting my claim on the United States together with an Affidavit ascertaining the price of Rough Rice.¹

A copy of my Said address with copy of the Memorial & Affidavit were forwarded by Mr. Decker by the hands of a Friend of his who was to land in Virginia & travel directly to Philadelphia wherefore I hope & trust at least one set of those Papers have reached you before this day & that the Memorial will have the desired effect.

It is exceedingly mortifying to me to be debarred of an Opportunity of even yet transmitting William Cowles & Co's Accounts. After having received them from the Second Scrivener & Accountant I put them into the hands of a third for making a careful examination & taking a fair Copy, from this Gentleman I expected to receive them on the 4th. Inst. but he now informs me they will not be finished before the 17th. this is truly vexatious—You will suppose our Scriveners are very Busy People. Some Years ago I could have finished the whole Business with my own hands in two days.

With regard to Mr. Fisher's Accounts I have no new lights, I can only affirm to the Letter which I writ to the Young Fishers a Copy of which is in your hands excepting that in the consignments for which they Charge me there are no doubt some Outstanding & some bad Debts of which I cannot be explicit, Before I see my former Clerk M^r. Warley who transacted all that Business when I was in England. When I shall see him is uncertain he is at his plantation eighty miles off & probably will not return before the warm weather shall drive him to the City, therefore I must submit to whatever Arbitrators may determine there is no help for it—But I should think no Arbitrators fully considering all circumstances will allow them any Interest especially as I can fully prove that at the time they pretend a Balance was due by me I had many Thousand Pounds Sterling lying in England without Interest. I wish an end to all these affairs that there might be an end to the trouble which I give you.

I now take in View your several kind favors the 14th. Sept, 1st. & 21st. October, 10th. & 16th. Novemb. & 7th. December.

The Governor wishes Mr. Simons would send him the glasses for his Carriage. Your young Friend has finally agreed upon but has not yet finished the Business I believe he will Shortly trouble you to send him a handsome Carriage. The Turnip Seed & Conk shell Buckles came Safe to hand so did the Mill Stones, Linseed Oil & Marble Slabs—Of the Wheat & Rye Capt. Walters kept back one Barrel of Wheat a great disappointment to me nor has he made any Satisfaction for it—I much want the Invoice of the Slabs in order to Settle Accounts with my Friend Mr. Sinkler. The explanation of the supposed error of £9—is Satisfactory—Mr. Sinkler wants his Chimney Backs & Account. I tell him he must have patience till your Navigation opens—I am to thank M^{rs} Bell & yourself for your kind present of Beef, Beer & Apples which I received through Mr. Decker all very good But I am truly sorry you should be at so much trouble.

Cowles & Co's Accounts although I have admitted every article to my debit will make a very different appearance from those which you sent me I think the Scriveners make Upwards of a Thousand Pounds Sterling Balance due to me that one charge of loss by Othogrote & Co's ought to be very fully proved before it is admitted. My Friend Cowles was a very honest Man but a very careless and confused Accountant.

Mr. Fitzsimons's reason for not allowing Interest on Lieutenant Col. Laurens's account would not be deemed fair or legal if given by one private Person to Another—But public Bodies will too often be Guilty of Acts which would disgrace a private Character.—You will observe that You & I coincide in Opinion that Mr. Randolph should peruse my Memorial before it was laid before Congress & it is my earnest & repeated desire that Gentleman should be liberally rewarded for all his trouble whether I shall recover anything from the Public or not—at the proper Season I shall be glad to receive the Bottled Beer which Mr. Decker was so good as to write for.

I thank you for the statement of the Monies received on Account of my Grand Daughter I shall be much obliged to you to send me Blank-forms of Powers for enabling you to receive the Interest due to her & to myself I kept no Copies of the former Powers & I have really forgot what they were—Your Offices or Officers are very Critical & I am afraid of making some Blunder.

I think I have now gone through Your several obliging favors & will detain you no longer But to repeat my acknowledgement of Obligation to you my respectful Compliments to Mrs. Bell & my best wishes for Yourself and your whole Family.

With great affection I am

Dear Sir, Your faithful friend & Obedient Servant

Henry Laurens

P. S. I enclose you the rules of our Company for opening an Inland Navigation which perhaps may be acceptable to some of your Friends.

Mr. Fitzsimons says "Others in similar Business had been paid in paper on which there was a heavy Depreciation" I believe I might dispute this fact and prove the contrary. But I should be glad to know what paper there was to pay in, after the year 1781.

In a word the Services which the young Minister rendered to the United States were very great and Universally acknowledged—But himself & those Services seem now to be forgotten. As to the demand not having been made in proper time the observation is Nugatory—Congress never had any Overplus money, they were, paying large Interest in France & in Holland. Besides much consideration ought to be had for the Orphan of a Zealos Faithful & highly useful Servant, deceased—who lost his life in his countries cause.

To Mr. William Bell,

Having a smart attack by the Gout I have found it necessary to borrow a fair hand to write for me.

Capt. Art.

Charleston So Carolina 17th Feby. 1792

Dear Sir

I writ to you very fully the 9th Inst. by Capt. Welsh Copy by Capt. Garman, both I believe are still in Port, this I intend by Capt. Art, probably they will all sail at the same time.

Mr. Thomas Nicholls whom you know, he speaks highly of your politeness to him in Philadelphia, has just brought me W^m. Cowles & Co. Accounts which, as a friend he has been so kind as to Copy & examine after the second accountants account, in which he has found so many errors & after admitting to Cowles & Co's Credit every article which they have charged to me, except the loss by Oto Grote & Co & calculating Interest according to the English Custom, he makes a Balance of upwards of £2000 Sterling due to me. Over & above this Balance there is one article of £1096 which appears to be twice charged to my debit, if this shall really be so, the difference in my favor will be much increased; This £1096 is said to have been paid or passed to the Credit of Vanderhorst & Warley per order—I was in England Mr. Warley was my Bookkeeper & Attorney the transaction must have been under his management & yet he has not passed any such Sum or Sums to the Credit of Cowles & Co. if they paid one or both, then Vanderhorst & Warley will fall so much in my debt, from this consideration as well as for making a State of outstanding or bad debts Mr. Nicholls advises me to detain the Accounts until I can consult Mr. Warley personally or by correspondence, I believe the former will be necessary as he must have access to my Books, nevertheless if you cannot obtain a reasonable time for that purpose I shall upon advice from you immediately transmit the Accounts as they are at present Stated & submit to what may happen.

From nearly the same consideration there is a necessity for delaying the final settlement of Mr. Fisher's Accounts, I wish the Gentlemen will consent to a reasonable farther delay—when you inform them I have lodged Money in your hands for paying any Balance which may be justly due I think they will not refuse, instead of drawing Money out of your hands I shall soon add to the Sum already there.

I have twenty four Shares in the branch of the National Bank which is to be established in this City for special reasons I am disposed to sell them all, I hereby authorize you to make the Sale in Philadelphia or New York which Market you shall prefer, upon advice from you of such Sale or agreement for Sale I shall deliver the Script as it is called to the purchaser's friend here or transmit it to you, as this binds me, my Heirs & Executors I think the purchasers should pay you, down the Money. The Scrip may be said to be in his hand, but if Credit is required till the actual delivery the Sale should be to a very Safe & Secure Man, you will please to advise me what formality will be necessary in the transfer, I have made first & second Payments I think, 4800 Dollars but my Papers are at home in the Country.

My respectful Compliments to Mrs. Bell & be assured

I remain

Your affectionate & Obligated

humble Servant

Charleston 23^d: feb: 1792

Dear Sir,

I am in debt for your obliging favor dated in November last, & should have made an earlier acknowledgement, but was induced to procrastinate my intention from day to day 'till the present hoping to have had occasion of troubling you upon the Business which my father hinted in last address to you of the present Month.—But before I proceed to this, it is right to thank you for the transmission of the Conch-Shell buckles & the miniature Picture, both which arrived Safely to hand and in due course.

My respected friend the Major has written to me & offered such reasons for not further insisting to repay him the cost of the Ring, that I cannot in any manner refuse being governed by them.—Respecting the buckles however my good Sir, you will pardon my insisting with you that as you have sent a Duplicate I should also pay double; it would be an ungenerous return indeed to burthen you with a charge which I ought to bear wholly myself. Let me not then I pray by a denial wear the appearance of want of generosity to you.—I wish to have put in hand for me immediately upon Receipt of this Letter by the best Coach-builder in your City, a Coach, of which the following is a Description.

It must be large, capable of containing four persons conveniently. The Quarters open with fine Glasses & Venetian Spring Blinds—two ample glasses before & behind, which also must have Blinds of the same sort.

The Lining of fine white broad Cloth, with a neat false Lining. Large handsome globe Lamps.

The Colour, couleur de puce of the most splendid sort without any painted border or other ornament of that sort, but a plated moulding all around with Suitable Brackets, (which I think is the term for those parts which bind the Roof & the sides together.)—

The Carriage part a perch (not crane-necked) & painted of a handsome bright yellow.

The Box not too lofty & fixed upon a Boot of moderate size.—

The Leather of the Boot & the Body Japanned, or varnished, I do not know which is the more proper term.—

Two hammer Cloths one a very elegant one, the other plain for common use.—or, if you approve it, an oil cloth to cover the best hammer cloth in lieu of the plain one.

The Carriage to be made as easy as possible & as light as is consistant with safety.

Hung at that height that double steps would be sufficient to ascend it.—But let the steps be treble, for greater ease.

A single L. upon each Door pannel as there will be no other ornament except this L, it should be made large & if you can have it executed in your City, enameled so as to suit the Colors of the carriage. It must be of plate or plated & screwed on by small neat screws upon the center of the pannel.

The fellows of the wheels broad, Something in the stile, if you recollect them, of my father's little Phaeton.—The reason of this, the carriage rolls, having such wheels, over our Sandy Streets, & Sinks not so much into them.

Harness for four horses, the Leaders to draw with Short braces.—This suitable to the Carriage. The Pads & Blinkers to be engraved with a single L. which you know is the first letter of our family name. It should be well shaped & handsomely Cut.

Employ the best Coach-builder on this occasion & let me intreat your friendly attention during the Building; It is for the Lady who has honored me by consenting to become at some future time, my wife.—I have delineated as nearly as I have been able the Carriage I wish to have. Perhaps I may committed Errors in terms, perhaps made some omissions, if it appears so to you, be kind enough to remedy them in your orders to the Builder & to understand me generally that I would have something very handsome, elegant & rich without either tawdriness or flash, of the newest taste without any extravagance of the fashion.—The cost you will regulate, on this head I have only to say, without meaning to limit you in the Smallest Degree in your agreement, that I certainly would be glad to have the work done on the best terms. The Amount of Cost you will please to place to my father's account.—

I do not know who is the best Builder of Carriages in your City, I have heard of Simons & Hunter, the latter I believe built a Coach for Mr. Rutledge, but you will be able to find out who is at the head of his trade, & him I would have employed.—The Carriage I wish to see here, if possible, in the month of May & early in it.—

You have shewn me many Acts of friendship but you can hardly shew me a greater at present than by bestowing particular Attention to the Commission I now trouble you with.—Excuse the repetition of address to your friendship, I ought not indeed to doubt it & do not.—

With respectful Compliments to Mrs. Bell I conclude & am

Dear Sir

Yours very truly

Henry Laurens Jun^r.

Respecting the Harness
I must add, I wish it made so as to admit of driving four in hand, or with a postilion on the leaders, which involves the expence of a pad & Saddle, to be used at pleasure.—

Mr. William Bell
Philadelphia.

Please to turn over

I shall be obliged to you to make Enquiries & inform me for how much Pennsylvania Currency, I can import into this Country a sett of handsome able Coach Horses, of the largest size say 16 hands high, including all charges.—It is not improbable if you consent to take the trouble for me I may request your interference in this matter hereafter.

Dear Sir,

Enclosed you will find Copy of my last address to you under the 17th Ult. by Capt. Art to which I beg leave to refer. Considering what weather we have had I think it necessary to trouble you with a duplicate. Being very desiros to Settle accounts with the Representatives of W^m. Cowles & Co. I have written to Mr. Warley to enquire whether he can recollect & explain the articles of £1096 mentioned in my last, when I receive his answer which will be in a few days I shall send forward the accounts without waiting for an investigation of outstanding & bad debts when he comes to Town in June—Arbitrators may insert a Salvo for those in the Award.

When I was in Charleston last week I delivered M^r. Decker a flour Barrel filled with ground nuts for Mrs. Bell he told me the Vessel by which they were to be sent would not Sail for a day or two otherwise I would have paid my respects to you immediately, but unluckily for me she Sail'd that very day.

I have in my possession a number of Loan Office receipts or Certificates amounting in the whole to $56854\frac{1}{10}\frac{5}{10}$ Dollars as by particular account on the other side will appear. I have been offered for these eighteen shillings in the Pound taken altogether, but I am informed I can get at least Pound for Pound at Philadelphia or New York—if you can obtain so much or more at either place I hereby authorize you to sell them payable & deliverable any day between the 5th & 20th of April next & I bind my Heirs & Exors to confirm your bargain without delay or damage to you.

I expect about £1000 St^g. more of the same sort for James Lauren's Estate which may also be sold at the same time but conditionally not absolutely lest a disappointment should happen.

Be pleased to send me by the very first opportunity one Cask 20 or 25 Gallons Linseed Oil & about five Gallons of best Spirit of turpentine in Bottels or Jugs carefully packed.

My Compliments & best Wishes to Mrs. Bell & all your family.

With great Esteem & Regard

I am dear Sir

Dear Sir,

My last to you was the 13th March by Capt Walters in which I requested you to sell for me 56854-20 Dollars in 6 p^rcents 3 p^rcents &c provided you could obtain 20/. in the Pound round. I hope my letter has reached you & that you will be able to do the Business.

I am now & have been for twelve days past lying in Bed under a most painful Malady the piles. I must nevertheless endeavour by the assistance of my Son to say something in reply to your very kind and obliging Letters of the 7th. & 22^d. Ult^o. the latter signed by Mr. Joseph Bell which I received three Days ago.

I very much thank M^r. Randolph M^r. Smith & yourself for your Endeavors to recover for me the Monies due to me by Congress. I hope you will Succeed. With respect to a fee to Mr. Randolph I shall take care of that when please God I am well, whether he obtains Justice or not.

Capt. Walker has certainly behaved very ill with respect to the Wheat. I suspect that he spared it here to some friend of his.

I wish you may finish selling the Script, the terms will be very agreeable to me.

If I were in health I would now send you Cowles & Comp: Acct. in its present State, altho' I am waiting to hear from M^r. Warley to whom I writ above four weeks ago, for information on the article of £1096 Sterling supposed to have been a double Charge. My friend is very slack in his answer.—

What you say with respect to returning my money & advancing money for me draws tears from my Eyes & I cannot speak properly to the Subject in my present condition.

Mr. Sinkler's marble Slabs were received in due time. I presume my friend Mr. Decker will take care of the Hemp-seed for me. We must wait for the Chimney backs & the Beer. I am not able to say more at present but to repeat my Compliments & best wishes to M^{rs}. Bell & your family & that I am with great affection & Esteem

Dear Sir,

Your obliging favor of the 7th. Inst: is before me. I thank you sincerely for the particular & early attention which your friendship has prompted you to pay to the business now immediately intrusted to your inspection; I mean that of the Coach. You say that it is agreed for & in hand, but being silent as to the makers name I assure myself he is of repute & fully capable of the work he has contracted to perform. In matters of this Nature, fancy perhaps is the Chief thing to be gratified, I therefore request you will keep the Coach-maker Strictly to the description which I gave in my first Letter to you on this subject, adding if you please by way of General Rule to Guide him, that I wish the Execution to be in a neat & elegant Stile, of faithful Staunch workmanship & exempt from all manner of tawdry flashiness.—The price is large, but if he finishes the Carriage as he ought, I will pay him his thousand Dollars chearfully, & I would indeed rather consent to a larger Expençe than be disappointed.

I beg your pardon my good friend for writing french to you;
I had entirely forgot that in our travels together we had only learned to speak Hollands—Coleur de puce in plain English is flea Colour; that Colour wherewith the Carriage is painted which you sent for Governor Pinckney; there are several tints of it. I wish my Carriage to have, as I think I mentioned before, one of the most brilliant.—The french Gentlemen whom you consulted differed indeed exceedingly in their translations, & in fact both were wrong, for a fly is neither flea nor mouse, & in colour is no more like either than it is to a frog. But this to ourselves.—By applying to the Builder of Pinckney's Carriage, he may be able to furnish you with the colour; but I will endeavour for greater certainty, when I go to Charleston, to procure upon a Ribband, or painted on a Bit of paper, the precise Shade that I want, in which case you will receive it under this cover.—

I shall be well satisfied to receive the Carriage the first Week in June, & rather at a later period than then unless it shall be perfectly finished & in fit order to put on Ship-board.

Let me request your insisting upon the good quality & fashion of the Springs, for it some times happens that uneasy old fashioned & misshapen ones are used upon Carriages sent to this Country, & it would grieve me perhaps more than the thing is worth, that there should be any imperfections of this sort or of any other.

I cannot keep repeating that I wish the Carriage hung at no preposterous height; I like well enough to be in fashion in all things & to a good degree, but the extravagance of it is what I always avoid & Should be ashamed to be guilty of.

I shall make the two following additions with your leave to former Directions

1st. Let the Springs be lofty & the Supporting Braces long in order to allow as much Swing as possible to the body of the Carriage.

2d. The nuts of the Wheels boxed in order to conceal the Extremities of the Axle-trees & the filth of the Grease which in open Nuts is always oozing out.—

These additions cannot I apprehend affect the price or give the work man increase of trouble—you will be so good as to attend to the making of the L, which you know is to be the Sole ornament upon the Door pannels, & see it touched off handsomely.— But for this I refer you to my Letter in february the 23^d Day or thereabouts.—

I will make no repetition of apologies to you on this occasion, because you desire me not; but I am Sensible that I have really given & am now giving you much trouble about what, serious people would Call a trifle, or at very best a useful Vanity, I am not bound however to withhold my thanks nor to refrain from saying that I am grateful for your attention & kindness & will use every opportunity of proving to you by Acts the sincerity of my Words.—

I beg you will present my best Respects to M^{rs}. Bell & am with affectionate Esteem & Regard

Dear Sir

Your obed. humble Serv^t.

Henry Laurens Jun^r.

P. S. Charleston 1st. May, 1792.

In order to prevent any mistake respecting the color I have requested Major Jackson to call upon you & describe it—If there should be any doubt about the matter; please order the carriage to be painted of any dark fashionable Color by saying dark I mean not light Colors.

Dear Sir,

Since writing to you the Letter under the same cover with this, I have received from my father the two following Paragraphs, which he desires me to communicate,

“That he continues incapable of Business but is slowly getting ‘better & hopes to be able to write to you in a week or ten Days; ‘he is Sorry you had not absolutely sold his Scripts. I was filling ‘up a Letter of Attorney to you for the transfer when your favor ‘by Capt. “He is glad you have given the handsome fees to M^r. MARRIAGE AND DEATH NOTICES FROM THE CITY GAZETTE

Copied by JENNIE HEYWARD REGISTER

Married, on Sunday evening last, by the Rev. Dr. Purcell, Mr. William Lowry, to Miss Sarah Radcliffe, both of this city. (Friday, Sept. 1, 1797)

Married on the 21st of September, 1796, Mr. M. Mackay, to Miss Chisolm, daughter of Alexander Chisolm, esq.

Died, on Friday morning, after a short but painful illness, Mr. Joseph Foulke, native of Philadelphia, aged 26 years; he is much lamented by all his friends and acquaintances. (Saturday, Sept. 2, 1797)

Died, on Friday morning last, Mr. Peleg P. Hall, in the 25th year of his age, after a short but painful sickness, which he bore with uncommon fortitude and resignation; a gentleman of a mild and happy disposition, and one whom his friends and acquaintance can never think of but with respect. (Monday, Sept. 4, 1797)

Died, on Saturday afternoon, the 2nd instant, after a few days illness, Mr. Walter Ewing, a native, and of a respectable family in Scotland. He was a young man whose upright conduct and cheerful disposition, reflected honor on his education, and evinced to the world his goodness. He possessed many amiable qualities, which endeared him to all when living, and now makes him deeply regretted. (Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1797)

Died, at Georgetown on Friday last, in the bloom of life, and of a short illness, Mrs. Sarah Glover, wife of Moses Glover, esq. Of an amiable and friendly disposition, of gentle and unaffected manners, she was esteemed, and is much lamented by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

Died, on Friday last, the 1st instant, at his plantation on the Wateree, Josiah Scott, esq. (Wednesday, Sept. 6, 1797)

Died, on Thursday the 7th instant, Mr. John O'Niel, a native of Ireland; a worthy, pious man, and a very valuable mechanic.

He has left a widow and four children, who sensibly feel the loss of a good husband and tender parent.

Died, on Tuesday last, in the bloom of life, after a short and painful illness, Mr. Richard Park Stobo, youngest son of the late Richard Park Stobo, of Willtown, deceased. (Saturday, Sept. 9, 1797)

Died, at Parker's Ferry, St. Bartholomew's Parish, on the 8th instant, Mr. William Southall, in his 31st year. He is much lamented by his friends and acquaintances, as an upright, sober and honest man. (Tuesday, Sept. 12, 1797)

Married, Tuesday evening last, by the Right. Rev. Bishop Smith, Mr. William Rutledge, merchant, to Miss Ann Coslett, both of this city.

Died, yesterday morning, after a lingering illness, Mr. James Poyal, merchant, much lamented by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

Died, on Tuesday last, Mr. William Taylor, Book-binder, aged 25 years, a native of Scotland. (Thursday, Sept. 14th, 1797)

Died, at Sullivan's Island on Friday last, Mr. John Baptiste Rosetti, miniature painter, much regretted by all his acquaintance. (Friday, Sept. 15th, 1797)

Died, on Friday last, Mr. William Spencer Davis, a native of Boston, after a short illness. In the death of this amiable young gentleman, the community have lost a member, whose virtues, (equalled by few) shone conspicuous during the short residence he made in this transitory world, and known best by those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. His relatives have this consolation—he met the will of Divine Providence with that fortitude, resignation and philosophy characteristic of the scholar and the christian—gratitude was a great trait of his disposition, but to repay favours was a greater, and the golden rule, “to do to others as you would they should do to you” was in him a principle strictly adhered to. (Monday, Sept. 18, 1797)

Died on Tuesday the 12th instant, Miss Ann Wall, a native of Ireland, after a few days illness. She is much regretted by all her acquaintances, and particularly by a surviving and a loving sister. In the mind of this amiable young lady were to be found, dignity without pride, affability without meanness, and simple elegance without affectation.

Died, on Sunday evening, the 17th instant, Charles Beekman, only son of the late Col. Beekman, of this city. This amiable youth had but a few weeks past attained the age of manhood, and was hurried out of this world after a very short illness; on the last day of which, sensible of his approaching dissolution he viewed the tyrant death with the calmness of a true Christian. To his disconsolate mother, this loss is irreparable; his virtue and endowments promised an ornament to his country; his engaging manners endeared him to all his acquaintance, but most so to his numerous and near relatives, who, while memory lasts, will lament his early fate.

Died, on Saturday last, at the house of Mr. Joseph Kay, Mr. John Goundrey, a native of, and lately from Yorkshire, Old England; a man universally esteemed by all who knew him.

Died, yesterday, after a short illness, Mr. James King, merchant, a native of Dublin, lately from Philadelphia.

We hear from Union County, Pinckney District, that on the 29th of June last departed this life, Major Cushman Edson, after a short illness. He was a native of Hardwick, in the county of Worcester (Massachusetts), but for many years a merchant in this state. He has left two orphans to the care of his mother and brother, now in this city. (Tuesday, Sept. 19, 1797)

Died, on Monday last, after a short illness, the Rev. James King (of the Methodist Church) a native of Virginia. He enjoyed religion about eleven years, and preached the Gospel with success near four years. Last year his labours were much blessed, and the people in the upper part of this state well know his worth as a minister. He preached in this city the last six months of his life, greatly to the satisfaction of his hearers; was much beloved by his brethern, and promised great usefulness in the church; a man of a sound judgment, good understanding, agreeable in his address, and of a great piety. He was resigned and happy in his last hours. But this bright sun is gone down at noon, while his happy spirit is gone to search the records of the city above, and his numerous friends are left to lament the loss of so promising a youth.

Died, yesterday morning, Mr. John Orr, a native of Scotland, regretted by all his acquaintance. (Wednesday, Sept. 20th, 1797)

Died, on the night of Tuesday, the 19th instant, and was interred the following day at the Catholic Church, Donna Maria Creagh Murphy, wife of Don Diego Murphy, Consul of his Catholic Majesty in this city; a lady of an ancient and honorable family of Ireland, but still more respectable for her amiable virtues and endearing manners. She has left an afflicted husband, three infant children, and a numerous acquaintance, to regret the loss of an affectionate wife, a tender mother, and sincere friend. (Friday, Sept. 22, 1797)

Died, at Camden, on Friday, the 22nd instant, Doctor James Martin; whose good nature, candour and honesty, endeared him to all his acquaintance. In life he was a good citizen, and in death, a man. (Wednesday, Sept. 27, 1797)

Died, in St. Matthew's Parish, on the 22nd instant, Mrs. Mary Warley, wife of Mr. Paul Warley. In her dissolution, a disconsolate husband mourns the loss of an amiable companion, and her children an affectionate mother; the grief of those, and a crowd of weeping friends, speak most eloquently her eulogium, and tell the many virtues which died with her. If affability is agreeable, if sincerity is to be esteemed, if piety is a virtue, and if a strict discharge of all the duties which a state of humanity imposed upon her should make her remembrance dear to those with whom she was connected, they justly water the mansion of her rest with tears. In a word, if virtue claims a place with God, she is seated in glory. (Thursday, Sept. 28th, 1797)

Died, on Wednesday last of a severe illness, which continued eleven days, and was borne with Christian patience and resignation, Mrs. Abigail Barker, mother of Mr. Barker, merchant, of this city, and sister to the Rev. Dr. Rogers, professor of oratory in the University of Pennsylvania. This amiable lady possessed in an eminent degree, the moral social and relative virtues, to which she added unaffected and exalted piety. (Friday, Sept. 29, 1797)

Married, lately at Millford, (Mass.) Mr. William Dabney, merchant, of this city, to Miss Hannah Jones. (Thursday, Oct. 5, 1797)

Married, on Tuesday evening, Mr. Edward Lamb, merchant, to Miss Polly Muncreef, daughter of Mr. John Muncreef. (Friday Oct. 6, 1797)

Married, on Thursday, the 5th instant, by the Rev. Mr. Hollingshead, Mr. William Russell Gray, to Miss Ruth Ann Man, both of this city.

Died, on Thursday last, at his house in this city, after a short indisposition, in the 55th year of his age, Isaac Huger, esq. late Brigadier General in the Army of the United States.

Died, at Georgetown on the 4th instant, Jacob Weight Laborn, esq. Register of the Mesne Conveyances for the said district. (Saturday, Oct. 7, 1797)

Married, yesterday evening, by the Right Rev. Bishop Smith, Frederick Rutledge, esq. to Miss Horry, only daughter of the late Daniel Horry, esq. (Thursday, Oct. 12, 1797)

Married, on Thursday evening last, by the Rev. Mr. Frost, capt. Isaac Barre Hichborne, to Miss Catharine Macklish, eldest daughter of the late capt. Thomas Macklish, of this city. (Saturday, Oct. 14, 1797)

Died, at New York on the 29th ult. in the prime of life, Mr. David Murdoch, a native of Gallway in Scotland, who had been for some time past in a declining state of health. He was a young man in whose character honor, probity and rectitude of conduct were conspicuous traits, and whose agreeable manners, and cheerfulness of disposition, at once rendered him amiable and engaging. His friends and acquaintances most sincerely regret this worthy young man's death. While in this world he led an upright and virtuous course, and with the fortitude and resignation of a Christian left this for a more glorious inheritance. (Tuesday, Oct. 17, 1797)

Died, at Libby's Point, Christ Church Parish, on Monday, the 16th instant, Royal Flint, esq., a native of the State of Massachusetts. In the late revolution congress appointed him deputy commissary general of purchases to the army, and at the close of the war he was again chosen by congress commissioner of accounts between the United States and the States of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island; in both these offices he executed the trust reposed in him with that ability and integrity as fully proved the justice of the choice. He was a man possessed of a truly benevolent and philanthropic heart, and of an enlightened understanding; and will be long and justly lamented by those who knew his worth. (Thursday, Oct. 19th, 1797)

Married, yesterday, by the Rev. Mr. Hollingshead, Mr. Jacob Ebney, to Miss Mary Russell, both of this city. (Friday, Oct. 20, 1797)

Married, on Thursday evening last, by the Right Reverend Bishop Smith, Major Thomas Pinckney to Mrs. Middleton, relict of the late John Middleton, esq. (Monday, Oct. 23, 1797)

Died, on Monday evening, at his house in this city, capt. John Revell. (Wednesday, Oct. 25, 1797)

Married, yesterday, by the Rev. Abraham Azuby, Mr. Solomon Cohen, son of the late Mr. Isaac Cohen, of Charleston, to the amiable Miss Ella Moses Hart, niece of the late Mr. Philip Hart late of Hamburgh. (Thursday, Oct. 26, 1797)

Married, last Thursday evening, by the Rev. Mr. Jenkins, Mr. Charles Stone, to Miss Sarah Tucker, daughter of the late Mr. Edward Tucker. (Saturday, Oct. 28, 1797)

Married, lately, in Great Britain, Christopher Fuller, esq., of Fuller's Hall, South-Carolina, to Mrs. Colonel McDonald, second daughter of the late William Innes, esq., of Sandside, in Caithness. (Tuesday, Oct. 31, 1797)

Married, on Monday evening last, by the Rev. Mr. Jenkins, Elias Horry, esq., to the amiable and accomplished Miss Harriet Vanderhorst, eldest daughter of col. Vanderhorst. (Wednesday, Nov. 1, 1797)

The death of General Huger. Between the hours of twelve and one o'clock, on the morning of the sixth ultimo, and in the fifty-fourth year of his age, an apoplectic fit terminated the existence of the much beloved, and equally lamented Isaac Huger; who was possessed of a heart of unbounded benevolence, a temper easy and agreeable, manners polite and engaging, a strength of mind truly determined, with a degree of courage and bravery the most undaunted when contending with dangers imminent and critical, and in situations difficult and trying; happy in the sincere and affectionate attachment of his friends, yet respected by those who in our late contest entertained sentiments immediately opposed to his opinions and to the cause to which he had devoted his services. His talents as a soldier were highly esteemed, even at the early period of seventeen years, when he was nominated to a lieutenancy in a battalion raised in 1760, commanded by Thomas Middleton, esq. for the express purpose of protecting our then defenceless and thinly settled inhabitants of the upper country, from the barbarous and savage incursions of the Cherokee and other Indians. In 1775, the memorable juncture, when the demon of discord influenced the British nation with an overruling passion for dominion and lust of power, and ultimately excited the cabinet of St. James to attempt the unwarrantable and destructive plan to subdue by force of arms and military array her peaceful and rising colonies, and war in consequence pervaded America's rights, he was, by the unanimous vote of his fellow-citizens, elected senior lieutenant-colonel in South Carolina, of the troops established by the provincial Congress; in 1776 he was appointed Colonel to the fifth regiment; and in 1778, promoted to the rank of Brigadier-General in the army of the United States; in which various and important stations, he had the honor and satisfaction to acquit himself with the universal applause and approbation of his country. (Thursday, November 2, 1797)

Died, on Wednesday evening last, Jacob Jacobs, sen. aged 56 years, a very respectable inhabitant and vendue master in this city, after a lingering and tedious indisposition, which he bore with manly firmness, leaving a number of relatives and friends to lament his loss. Of his integrity through life we may justly say,

"A wit's a feather, and a chief's a rod
An honest man's the noblest work of God."

Pope.

(Friday, November 3, 1797)

Married, on Thursday evening last, by the Right Rev. Bishop Smith, Mr. John Ball, to the amiable Miss Elizabeth St. John, both of this city. (Monday, November 6, 1797)

Married, on Sunday night last, by the Rev. Mr. Hollingshead, capt. Josiah Crosby, to the amiable Miss Hannah Revell. (Tuesday, November 7, 1797)

Died, on Friday last, on his way home to Pendleton County, Master Charles Miller, youngest son of John Miller, esq., of that county. His father entertained a wish to have raised him a Printer, under the care of the publishers of this paper; but having made him perhaps, too much the child of nature and of independence, he sickened at the appearance of artificial life, and sighed for his dear back woods. His father complied with his urgent request for his return to his most beloved mother, his dear relatives, and most esteemed young friends. On the second day of leaving Charleston, he was attacked with a fatal disorder, which in seven days terminated his earthly existence. (Wednesday, November 8, 1797)

Married, on Monday evening last, by the Rev. Mr. Hollingshead, Isaac Holmes, esq. to Miss Eliza Baker, daughter of the late Richard Bohun Baker, esq. (Thursday, November 9, 1797)

Died, on Thursday evening last, capt. George Halliday, late master of the brig. Hope, of this port.

Died, yesterday, Mr. David Clarke. (Saturday, November 11, 1797)

Mrs. Wolstoncraft.—On Sunday morning, the 10th Sept. died in child-bed, Mrs. Godwin, the wife of Mr. William Godwin, of Somers-Town. She was well-known throughout Europe by her literary works, under her original name of Wolstoncraft, and particularly by her "Vindication of the Rights of Woman." For affectionate manners, soundness of understanding, and of heart, she was, perhaps, never equalled. (Monday, November 13, 1797)

Died, on the 29th ult. in the neighbourhood of the Four Holes, in the 73rd year of her age, Mrs. Catharine Elizabeth Carn, only sister of capt. Daniel Strobel, of this city; she was an inhabitant of that place about 45 years, during which time she had enjoyed an uncommon share of health. She was a kind parent, and friend to all mankind, and her death is much lamented by her numerous family, consisting of children, grand-children and great-grand-children, about ninety in number.

Died, suddenly, at Augusta, Mr. Robert Brown, merchant, of Savannah. (Tuesday, November 14, 1797)

Married, last evening by the Rev. Mr. Jenkins, Sir John Nisbet, Baronet, to Miss Alston, daughter of William Alston, esq.

Died, on Sunday, the 12th instant, Mrs. Susannah Heathy, a native of this city, aged 107 years. (Thursday, Nov. 16, 1797)

Married, on Thursday, by the Rev. Dr. Hollingshead, Mr. John Glen, to Miss Sarah Whittemore. (Saturday, Nov. 18, 1797)

Married, last Thursday, at Dorchester, by the Rev. Mr. Parker, Robert Simons, esq., to Miss Mary Horlbeck, daughter to the late Peter Horlbeck.

Died, at Beaufort, on the 11th of November, capt. William John Grayson, aged 37 years: a dutiful son, an affectionate husband, a kind father, a loving brother, a good friend, a merciful master, and sincere christian. "Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord; for they rest from their Labours." (Monday, Nov. 20, 1797)

Died, on Monday morning, Mr. Edward Christie, merchant, in the 28th year of his age, after a painful sickness of 14 weeks, which he bore with Christian fortitude and resignation. (Wednesday, Nov. 22, 1797)

Sunday, the 12th instant, died, of the wounds he received on the 10th, on his way to Washington district court, from four or five assassins in ambush, Robert Maxwell, esq. sheriff of that district. He has left a most excellent woman, but now a disconsolate widow, (daughter of Gen. Anderson) with a large family of young children. Three suspected persons have been apprehended, and pursuit was making after a fourth. (Saturday, Nov. 25, 1797)

Married, on the 9th instant, in the neighbourhood of Philadelphia, by the Rev. Bishop White, Charles Baring, esq., of the county of Devon, in England, to Mrs. Susan Heyward, widow of the late James Heyward, esq., of Charleston, South Carolina. (Wednesday, Nov. 29, 1797)

Married, on Tuesday evening last, Mr. John Nowell, to Miss Mary Lord, daughter of John Lord, esq., deceased, both of this city.

Died, at the house of Mr. Charles Banks, on the 28th instant, Mr. John Stead, aged 27 years, a native of Leeds in England; he arrived here in the Eliza, from London, a few weeks since. (Thursday, Nov. 30, 1797)

Married, on Thursday evening last, by the Rev. Mr. Jenkins, James Gadsden, esq., to Miss Rebecca Coachman, daughter of the late Benjamin Coachman, esq. (Saturday, Dec. 2, 1797)

Died, yesterday morning, Mr. William Fair, Factor. (Monday, Dec. 4, 1797)

Married, at Coosawhatchie, Beaufort District, on Thursday, the 23rd of November last, by the rev. James Gourlay, Mr. John Riley, merchant, of Jacksonborough, to Miss Frances Morgandollar, daughter of John Morgandollar, esq., of that place.

Died, on the first instant, at his plantation on John's Island, Captain Nicholas James Mainville, a native of France, but a resident here ever since our revolutionary war, in which he rendered faithful and very important services to this country. On Sunday he was interred under a beautiful shade, which he had long before chosen for his place of rest. Though there was no affectionate relative to administer to him the balm of comfort in his last days, nor to grace his funeral obsequies, yet his grave was watered with the tears of those who knew his worth, and were grieved at the loss of so good a man.

Capt. Mainville had a wife and daughter in France, (it is believed at Havre-de-Grasse) who were living at the date of his last accounts.

Died, on the 2nd instant, Mr. William Fair, factor, aged 86 years, a native of Scotland, and a resident in this city upwards of forty years, during which period he supported the character of an honest, upright man, which was the summit of his ambition. (Tuesday, Dec. 5, 1797)

Married, on Monday evening, by the Rev. Doctor Hollingshead, Mr. Jeremiah Yates, merchant, to Miss Eliza Yates, both of this City.

Married, on Sunday evening last, by the Rev. Mr. Faber, Mr. John J. Knifer, to Mrs. Mary Phillips, widow of the late Mr. John Phillips. (Wednesday, Dec. 6, 1797)

Married, last evening, Mr. Francis Bonneau, to Mrs. Legare, widow of the late Mr. Samuel Legare, merchant, deceased, both of this city.

Married, on Tuesday last, by the Right Rev. Bishop Smith, William Andrew Johnson, to Miss Anna Maria Pinckney, eldest daughter of the late Hopson Pinckney, esq. (Friday, Dec. 8, 1797)

Married, at Lisbon, Colonel Humphreys, Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States, to the Court of Spain, to Miss Bulkeley, of that city. (Monday, Dec. 11, 1797)

Died, on the 4th instant, at the Euhaws, Mr. John George Mayer, merchant, of this city. (Tuesday, Dec. 12, 1797)

Died, yesterday morning, at the poor house in this city, Mrs. Eve Lowry, aged 93. (Friday, Dec. 15, 1797)

Married, on Thursday, the 7th instant, at Young-Ville, Waccamaw, by the Right Rev. Bishop Smith, Doctor James B. Read, to Miss Louisa Young, eldest daughter of Benjamin Young, esq. deceased. (Saturday, Dec. 16, 1797)

Died, on Thursday last, after a lingering illness, Archibald Brown, esq. By his death an affectionate wife, and a large family of children, are deprived of a tender husband and parent; his friends, of an agreeable companion; and his country, of a valuable citizen. (Tuesday, Dec. 19, 1797)

On the 14th inst. and in the 46th year of his age, departed this life, infinitely lamented, Archibald Brown, esq. who was possessed of every virtue essential to happiness. As a husband, the most affectionate and attentive; as a parent, equally mild and tender; a kind and affectionate brother; and as a master, eminently humane and indulgent. His affability of temper, liberality of sentiments, and polite manners endeared him to his friends and acquaintances; in his intercourse with the world, candour and integrity formed his conduct; he lived to please and to be respected; and died the amiable death of being universally beloved, esteemed and regretted. (Thursday, Dec. 21, 1797)

Died, in the 25th year of his age, at his seat on May River, on the 11th inst. David Dixon Stoll, esq. a member of the house of representatives of this state. The fortitude with which this worthy man bore his last severe illness, of thirty days continuance, was truly admirable. Through every stage of the disease, his countenance and deportment were more than philosophically placid and serene. His life, luminous with virtue and piety, was succeeded by a peaceful and triumphant death, which he was fully persuaded would usher him into a glorious immortality. The deeply affected widow, his aged and venerable mother, and only sister, unitedly mourn their irreparable loss, of one who was inestimable as a husband, a son, a brother and a friend. The church, of which he was a most worthy and useful member and officer, laments the loss of one of her strongest pillars, and brightest ornaments. Indeed, without the least exaggeration, it may be averred, that the vicinity in which Mr. Stoll lived, the state, the legislature, the country, and the world, are much the poorer for the dissolution of this worthy and active member of society, this respectable citizen, this eminent Christian. (Saturday, Dec. 23, 1797)

Married, on Sunday evening last, Mr. James Elford, to Miss Margaret Gray.

A letter received on Monday, from Savannah, brings the melancholy tidings, of the death of capt. Jeremiah Dickinson, master of the schooner Neptune, of this port, in the Savannah trade.
* * * *

Died, lately at Providence, Rhode Island, in the 65th year of his age, Henry Ward, esq. secretary of that state, after having sustained that office for nearly forty years. * * * (Wednesday, Dec. 27, 1797)

Died, yesterday morning, capt. Downham Newton. (Thursday, Dec. 28, 1797)

WARING FAMILY

Compiled by JOSEPH IOOR WARING

Benjamin Waring the founder of the family in South Carolina, arrived in the Colony in 1683. Among the papers in the State Historian's Office is an order addressed to Stephen Bull, Surveyor General to "cause to be admeasured and laid out seven hundred acres of land unto Benjamin Waring, it being due him for the arrival of himself, wife and child, and thirteen other persons whose names are recorded in the Secretary's Office the 11th day of May 1683."

This land was upon the Ashley River near what is now called Slann's bridge.

In 1711 a grant was made to Thomas Waring son of Benjamin and Elizabeth Waring of five hundred acres afterwards known as "Pine Hill." This property has since then been in possession of the family to the present day. Benjamin the immigrant seems to have been a man of some standing. He was a member of the Commons House in 1685 (M'Crady Vol. 1—Page 210). In 1693 he was a member of the Assembly from Berkeley County and in 1703 and 1711 Commissioner of Taxes for the north side of Ashley River.

Thomas Waring, his son, was a member of His Majesty's Council having been appointed June 30th 1730. In 1739 at the time of his death he was still a member of this Council. In 1717 he signed the petition to the King requesting him to take the management of the Colony out of the hands of the Proprietors. His brothers Benjamin and Richard also held public offices.

There are several branches of this family in South Carolina all tracing their descent from Benjamin through his three sons Thomas, Benjamin and Richard.
